VOLUME 4, ISSUE 53 NOVEMBER 2015

Pastor's Note:

On a particularly hot and boring summer Saturday my twelve-year-old-self made the mistake of telling my dad, "I'm bored." He replied, "Son, if you've got nothing to do, I can find you something." He did, and I no longer complain of boredom.

What's true for twelve-year-old me is true for us today, both as individuals and as a church. If we don't find something to do, someone will find us something to do.

Some Protestant denominations found this out the hard way. In an effort to be strictly biblical, some denominations moved away from the ancient Christian Calendar. Once their calendar's opened up, people filled the dates with other things—things that had little to do with faith.

There's an important lesson here. What we do with our time and the special days we celebrate, go a long way in determining the kind of people we become. By letting people other than the church fill our calendars, we learn what is worth celebrating, what is worth resting for, what is worth spending money on and what is worth remembering.

This month we approach what the church calls Advent. Advent is not Christmas. Advent is a time like Lent. It is a time to prepare us for the revelation of Christ, a time of preparation so that Christ might be born afresh in our hearts this December the 24th during our Christmas Eve Candlelight Service.

Unfortunately many American Churches continue to take their marching orders from consumer driven media culture, rather than long standing Church Tradition. Rather than preparing our lives for fresh and powerful revelation, we prepare ourselves to overreach in spending and overstress our lives by buying (literally buying) into the myth of the "perfect Christmas."

If we don't find something to do, someone will find us something to do. Someone might tell us, "Spend a wad of cash on Black Friday!" or "The kids really do need that." Fortunately for us United Methodist's, the church simply tells us, "sing strange hymns, pray, repent and serve those who have less, and maybe...just maybe The Son of God will reveal himself afresh to you this Advent season." May we all be so blessed this year.

(This Advent we'll be doing "A Different Kind of Christmas" as Church. Bring your friends who are hungry to experience God (and Christmas) in new way.)

Is Your Financial House in Order?

Please read Luke 6:37-38 & Luke 12:21-34

The Finance Committee met recently to make a church budget for 2016. This is the time of year all of our families review our financial condition: earnings, spending, giving and savings. It's an excellent time to reflect but also plan our future. Make time with God reading and reflecting upon the passages noted above and be guided when considering your 2016 faithful heartfelt giving.

After considering your financial condition and you have had a good year, please consider giving a year end donation to our Building fund or Endowment. Let them be gifts to lift up the glory and joy to God!

In Faithful Stewardship,
Your Finance Committee

collects these shoeboxes filled with toys and other items and distributes them to children around the world. Pick up a box at the church to pack. We are also in need of volunteers to assist with the collection of boxes. Contact Andrew (941-724-1263) for details.

Acts 29 Update: The youth have stayed busy this month helping with a mission team project and doing other activities in the church and community. In our lessons, we've been delving deeper into what it means to live by our mission statement: Reach Up in Faith, Reach In for Hope, Reach Out with Love, Reach All for Christ.

Oak Forest passed out close to 1,000 pieces of candy during the Trick-or-Treat on the Square event on Halloween. Many families were excited to see us there, and several were interested in more information about our ministries. It was a great opportunity to tell others how much we love the church and make Oak Forest a name that is known to more in the community.

Volunteers are needed to help deliver meals to local shut-ins on Thanksgiving day. If you can help please see Fannie Watson or call her at: 828-361-1591.
